Algiers, December 26.

ON the 18th past about Three a-Clock in the Morning, a violent Earthquake was felt here and two Shocks since, but not so strong as to have occasioned much Damage here. In two Villages about 16 Leagues to the Westward, a great many Houses have been thrown down, and several Persons buried under their Ruins.

Petersbourg, Jan. 22. Expresses from Moscow towards Germany go frequently through this Place with Dispatches to our Ministers at foreign Courts. A certain Merchant here has remitted by the Czar's Order 150,000 Rubles to the Duke of Mecklenbourg at Dantzick, who is expected here daily, and the House which was formerly the Count de Bruce's, is fitting up for him and the Dutchess.

Stockholm, Jan. 30, O. S. On the 24th Instant in the Morning the several Bodies of the States of this Kingdom assembled in the Great Hall at the Court, each Body being seated a-part. The King entred the Hall about twelve a-Clock, the Senate, and the Gentlemen of the Bedchamber, walking two and two before his Majesty, with the Marshals Tessin and Dubin at their Head: His Majesty was attended by the Generals Creutz, Yarter, Tornsticht, and Guildenstierna. His Majesty being seated on the Throne, and the Senators having taken their Places on each Side of the Space before the Throne, the Generals during the whole Solemnity standing at a little Distance behind his Majesty, Count Horn President of the Chancery made a Speech to the States in the Name of the King: His Excellency therein signified to them the Occasion of their coming together, the Satisfaction his Majesty proposed to himself in their Meeting and in the Assistance of their Counsels, and his Majesty's constant Attention to whatever might be for the Good of the Country. Then one of the Secretaries read to them in his Majesty's Name a Summary of such Affairs as had passed since the last Dyet, together with some other things that might want their present Advice; concluding with recommending to their Care the many Officers who were returned to their Country after a long Captivity, and were wholly unprovided for. To which Speech the Marshal of the Nobility, the Bishop of Lyncoping for the Clergy, and the Speakers of the Burgesses and of the Peasants, answered respectively, each suitably to the Character of the Body he spoke for, and they had severally the Honour to kiss his Majesty's Hand.

Paris, Feb. 24. The Pope's Nuncio having represented to this Court, that in an Epic Poem upon the History of the League, which M. Harrouet de Voltaire has caused to be now printing in Holland, there are several Things in it not agreeable to Religion, the Cardinal du Bois has therefore wrote to the States General, desiring they would cause the Impression to be suspended till the Work is thoroughly examined; which being granted, three Persons, sound Divines, and Members of the Academy, are appointed to go through the same, and afterwards make their Report to the Cardinal. It is said, that the King will order the Title of Monsieur to be given to the Duke of Orleans, with the like Privileges as were enjoyed in the late Reign by his Royal Highness's Father; and that when the King holds his Bench of Justice, he will declare the Duke of Orleans to be his Lieutenant-General of the whole Kingdom; or, according to some, his Ordinancer-General in France, with full Power to sign Ordinances, Brevets, and other Dispatches, in the same Manner as he did when Regent, and without being accountable for that Service. It is also reported, that the Duke de Chartres is to have the Title of Royal Highness, and the Privilege of having Guards attend him; that the Regiment of French Guards will be added to the Generalship of the French Foot now held by the Duke of Chartres; and in Consideration of that Addition, a sufficient Compensation will be made to the Duke de Gramont, who is Colonel of the Regiment of French Guards. M D'Armenonville has begun to keep the Seals at Versailles, and will observe to keep them hereafter at all Places where his Majesty resides.
